Koalas: Australia's Love Language

Immediate Release

The Australian Koala Foundation (AKF), the leading non-profit NGO dedicated to the conservation and management of the wild koala and its habitat, unveils a heartwarming collection of Koala-themed treasures donated by supporters.

These items, including plush toys, statues, and artworks, celebrate the Koala's status as a beloved Australian icon and inspire both creativity and affection from people worldwide.

Koalas, with their endearing appearance, have long held a special place in the hearts of Australians and visitors alike. Their influence as an emblematic symbol of Australia has transcended borders, captivating the imaginations of people from around the world.

In particular, Koala plush toys serve as cherished souvenirs, reminding visitors of Australia's unique wildlife.

The AKF's collection of koala-themed items, boasts an array of plush toys, some lovingly handmade, others bursting with colour, and some are so lifelike. This diverse collection mirrors the rich personalities of wild Koalas.

Deborah Tabart OAM, Chair of the AKF, said Koalas are an Australian icon and need to be protected.

"These donations are true testaments to how much the Koala is cherished in Australia," Tabart said.

"They emphasise the deep connection people have with these gentle creatures and the need for us to protect them for future generations."

Beyond this cherished Koala collection, the AKF invites everyone to actively participate in Koala conservation efforts.
